When inner beauty and well-being show on the outside.

Preventing your skin from aging, preserving its natural beauty, losing weight... while lots of these worries are about appearance, they can also be a source of major insecurities.

Nutricosmetics are just what you need! These food supplements, which are taken orally, act in synergy with topically applied cosmetics. The health benefits are numerous and primarily target the structure and appearance of the skin, hair and nails, as well as weight, cellulite or detoxification of the body.

As a major nutricosmetics player, the BIOCYTE laboratory proposes food supplements containing essential nutrients with well-known effects.

In addition, the BIOCYTE laboratory has an extremely rigorous quality and safety policy. The choice of ingredients and dosages, as well as the manufacture and traceability of the supplements, therefore meet the most stringent European regulations, making the BIOCYTE nutricosmetics range a natural, effective and safe solution for those seeking inner well-being that is visible on the outside!

THE SKIN, preventing it from aging

The skin: a complex organ

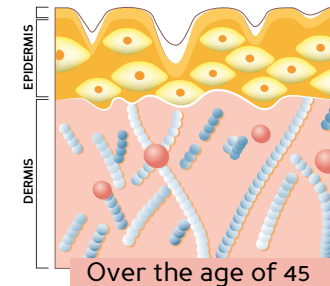

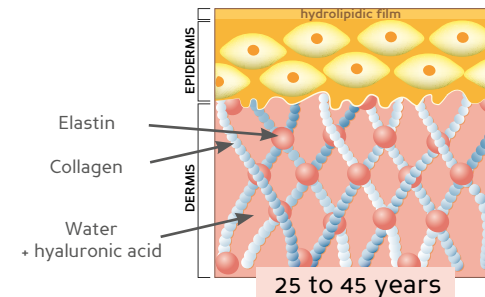

The skin contains 2 proteins:

- elastin for suppleness and elasticity;
- collagen for density and resistance.

The fibers of these two proteins are closely intertwined with one another, forming a strong, stretchy mesh.

Hyaluronic acid fills in this mesh, giving the skin a moisturized, replumped appearance, and increases elastin and collagen synthesis.

These 3 substances form the skin's essential building blocks. But with age, their production naturally decreases. So it is important to supplement them beyond the age of 25: topically to moisturize the epidermis and orally to act on the dermis.

Skin aging is caused by three phenomena

1- Reduction in the natural production of hyaluronic acid, collagen and elastin.

2- Glycation (Maillard reaction): spontaneous reaction causing the glycoxidation of sugars with a high glycemic index carried in the blood, including AGES (Advanced Glycation End products), leading to stiffening of collagen and elastin and causing the skin to lose its suppleness.*

3- Oxidative stress.

Biocyte COLLAGEN

In 2009, BIOCYTE, a European leader in the Nutricosmetics sector, placed on the market the first oral collagen supplement intended to improve the intrinsic qualities of skin. As with all its other products, BIOCYTE sources and uses only the very best collagen available on the market.

What is collagen?

Collagen is a special protein, with a very specific aminogram that enables it to have a deep-down action on skin restructuring when taken orally. Collagen supplements help restore the density and resistance of our own natural collagen fibers supporting the skin.

The aminogram of the collagen taken is crucial, especially its Proline, Hydroxyproline (proline derivative) and Glycine content; these amino acids form the principal structure of collagen.

Biocyte sources collagen that is rich in these three amino acids for an optimal action on skin.

Probiotics

Probiotics improve our body's well-being

Our gut naturally contains around 100,000 billion microorganisms, viruses and bacteria that play a useful role and are even essential to the survival of the host individual. Under normal circumstances, they do not cause illness. However, if our immune system is weakened, the majority of these bacteria belonging to the normal flora can act as opportunistic pathogens. Furthermore, various external factors, such as stress, taking antibiotics or a poor diet, can disrupt the microbiota and create imbalances. It is therefore important to look after our gut's microbial flora.

Biocyte is launching a line of Microbiote products as part of its Longevity range. These products address a growing demand for probiotics and meet consumer expectations in terms of digestive health, dietary balance and general well-being.
